Answer These

What do you want your Legacy of Anger to be?

Who do you want to leave it too?

How will your legacy enrich their life?

How could you best communicate this legacy to others?

How will God get the credit for the changes in your anger?

Remember This

We all leave a legacy that people remember about us.

The vast majority of people live a meaningless life moving from one crisis to another. You are created for more than that.

You have a choice to be a blessing, a curse or nothing to those around you.

Other's watch you and some are trying to imitate you.

Your life can make God look great or make you look like a failure. Choose wisely.
